AP Cost Is Hiked Fewer Farms But They Are Larger

The Associated Press notified by letter over the week-end that the weekly bank draft for the service is being increased immediately by 8.8 per cent.

The AP board of directors in New York authorized the action at a meeting Jan. 20.

This is a significant move in today's economic trend for AP is a co-operative operating without profit. Unavoidable increases in the expense of a far-flung news-gathering agency forced the rate hike.

One of the puzzles about a newspaper is that you no sooner get an increase in advertising rates than your suppliers come along with an expense hike.

We may be the only newspaper in the county but advertisers and subscribers should be reminded that all our major expenses are governed by a tight circle of suppliers.

For instance, there are only two national wire services—Associated Press and United Press Universal—and UPI operates for a profit. Naturally we'll stay with AP, a cooperative operating at cost.

The U.S. Bureau of the Census reported Feb. 2, as you read on this page, that the total of individual farms being operated in Hempstead declined from 1,395 in 1964 to 944 in 1969—a drop of 32.4 per cent in five years.

But the remaining farms are larger and their dollar production is greater. Add inflation to the foregoing and you can understand how the value of all farm products jumped from 10 million in 1964 to 25 million in 1969.

Although not mentioned in the federal report the big-farm trend has produced a boom in the sale of farm equipment, one manufacturer reporting new records were set in 1971.

The farm picture only reflects what has been true of life in the cities for years. It takes more and more capital to start a business and keep it going, whether you're on a farm or in the city.

Lawmaker, Wife Shot to Death

NORTH LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Dr. Rodney Carlton, the state medical examiner, is expected to make an official ruling today on the circumstances surrounding the shooting deaths of state Rep. Leon Holsted and North Little Rock and Holsted's wife.

The bodies of both were found Saturday morning in a North Little Rock drugstore owned by Holsted.

Lt. Robert Tucker of the North Little Rock police detective bureau said Saturday that Carlton had "tentatively ruled" the deaths a murder-suicide. Tucker said it appeared Mrs. Holsted, 44, had shot her husband, also 44, with a .38-caliber pistol and then turned the gun on herself.

Holsted was serving his fourth term in the House and had indicated he would run for the Senate this year.

More Difficulty for Bumpers

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — According to a poll released Sunday, Gov. Dale Bumpers may be as well received in the special session of the legislature as he was in the 1971 General Assembly.

The poll was done by Jim Anichino, political analyst. Anichino said he sent the poll to the 135 legislators and 91 returned the poll.

When asked if Bumpers would get the same type of "pleasant reception" in the special session as he enjoyed in last regular session, 50 per cent said they did not think so. Thirty per cent said they thought the reception would be the same and 14 per cent they were unsure.

Illegal March Is Held by Irish, No Violence

By COLIN FROST
Associated Press Writer
BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — After a huge but peaceful march Sunday in which both marchers and British troops avoided a confrontation, Northern Ireland's militant Catholics made plans today for another demonstration this week which they claim will paralyze the province.

The Civil Rights Association proclaimed D-Day—D for disruption—on Wednesday, six months to the day since the Protestant government began internment suspected members of the Irish Republican Army without trial.

"We are staying tight-lipped about the actual organization," said Rory McShane, a spokesman for the association, "but it will be nonviolent, it will be successful and it will be massive."

More than 20,000 Catholics paraded Sunday in the border town of Newry, but restraint on both sides prevented any repetition of the "bloody Sunday" in Londonderry the week before, when British paratroopers broke up another Catholic march and 13 civilians were killed.

The Newry marchers defied the government ban on parades by both Catholics and Protestants but made no attempt to reach the center of the town where 3,000 British troops waited. And the troops made no attempt to break up the march as long as it stayed away from them.

There were no shots fired, no stones thrown and no barricades stormed. The marchers walked in silence, changed their route at the last minute and retreated to hold a mass meeting near their starting point, protesting the government's internment policy.

Bernadette Devlin, the 24-year-old Catholic member of the British Parliament from Ulster, was one of the leaders of the march and spoke at the meeting. Actresses Vanessa Redgrave and Joan Plowright, Sir Laurence Olivier's wife, also walked in the parade.

U.S. Diplomat Dies

WASHINGTON (AP) — Llewellyn E. Thompson, who made his name as a gutsy diplomat by refusing to leave Moscow in the face of the Nazi Army and during his 40-year career wielded significant influence on U.S. East-West policy, has died.

Thompson, who served in the Russian capital longer than any other American diplomat—11 years—died Sunday evening at the National Institutes of Health in nearby Bethesda, Md., where he had been hospitalized for an undisclosed illness since Jan. 31. He was 67.

A quiet and unassuming man called Tommy by his friends, Thompson was acknowledged to have had more success in negotiating with the Soviets than any U.S. envoy since establishment of diplomatic relations with Russia in 1933.

Approximately 100 persons attended a meeting of the Citizens Committee for Better Quality Schools in Hope School District 1-A Thursday night in Hope City Hall auditorium.

General Chairman Matt McCauley presided over the meeting and introduced Randal Chastain, general chairman of a group of citizens at Benton who had formed a Citizens Advisory Committee in 1970 to study the problems of the school system there and submit a report and list of recommendations to the Benton School Board.

Making the trip to Hope with Chastain were Will Pruitt, Vice-Chairman of the Benton committee; Paul Mooney, Chairman of the Building & Grounds sub-committee; Dr. Don Brashears, Chairman of the Curriculum sub-committee; Mrs. Betty Cramer, Secretary of the Auxiliary sub-committee and Associate Editor of the Benton Courier; Rev. He also stated that the Hope School board meets the second Monday of each month, that it is an open meeting and encouraged parents and other interested persons to attend. Other local school board members attending were Bill Watson, Al Graves and Jim Rowland. Representing the Hope Classroom Teachers Assn. was Mrs. Jim Robertson, president. Several other teachers were present including Hope High School principal Bobby Whitmarsh.

Following the meeting, the sub-committee chairmen of the local group met and organized their committees. They are:

Quakes Shake Italian City

ANCONA, Italy (AP) — More than 200 earth shocks and tremors over the weekend caused 90,000 residents to flee this Adriatic city in panic.

They feared a repetition of a 1930 earthquake that destroyed hundreds of homes in the area, despite assurances from scientists that the latest quakes were of far lesser magnitude.

About 10,000 residents remained in their homes.

TALK ABOUT TRAFFIC CONGESTION, marine style, it can't get much worse than this harbor at Hong Kong. Actually, with this city's population of more than four million and available land at a premium, some of the residents spill over onto the water, living in floating homes. With shops and other conveniences also afloat, some are said never to go ashore in a lifetime.

Rogers Denies Statement by Thuy on Pullout-Swap

By JIM LUTHER
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Hanoi's chief negotiator at the Paris peace talks says the United States was offered a straight prisoners-for-pullout swap last year but President Nixon refused.

Minister Xuan Thuy added, however, that such an exchange can no longer be discussed without linking it to the future of South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu.

Thuy was asked in an interview in Paris with CBS' "face the Nation": "Will you agree to a simple swap of American troops out for American prisoners back?"

He replied: "It is not a swap here You should remember that this approach was advanced in 1971 It was our earnest desire to see Mr. Nixon rapidly settle the Vietnam problem peacefully."

"That is to say ... to withdraw U.S. forces and to change the ... Thieu administration. Through the election of Oct. 3, 1971, it was a very opportune occasion to do so, and it would have allowed Mr. Nixon to get out of the war very honorably. But Mr. Nixon refused to do that."

Asked specifically whether the Hanoi position now requires handing of the political and military problems as a single question, Thuy replied:

"As I said, the two crucial points, the two key points, should be settled, and the settlement of these two points will facilitate the settlement of the other points."

CBS followed the Thuy interview, taped Friday, with live questioning of Secretary of State William P. Rogers in Washington Sunday.

Asked whether Thuy had ever offered a prisoner-for-pullout trade, Rogers replied:

"There was never any discussion of that kind. In every session that we had with the North Vietnamese, they made it clear that they would not talk about a military solution, except in the context of an over-all political solution

"So it is not possible for us to work out any military solution unless we, in effect, give them exactly what they want. And that would mean a total defeat for the United States" Rogers said.

Despite a stream of criticism from North Vietnam and the Viet Cong, Rogers said, the Communists still have not rejected Nixon's latest eight-point peace plan.

Captured by Israeli

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israel has announced the capture of two bands of Arab guerrillas, including one whose members made two grenade attacks on tourists in the old section of Jerusalem.

One suspect confessed to throwing a grenade at a group of American pilgrims last September, killing one Arab girl and injuring seven Americans and five other persons.

Another admitted that last October he threw the hand grenade which wounded 17 persons, including three American tourists in the same area.

A military spokesman said 13 guerrillas were captured in the Arab village of Shuyukh, north of Hebron in the occupied west bank territory.

Another band of guerrillas was broken up in the Gaza

Strip. Security forces killed one, wounded another and captured two others, the spokesman said. The captives confessed setting off two blasts on the same day last month in the northern coastal town of Natanya and in the Tel Aviv suburb of Kfar Sava, he said. Five Israelis were wounded at Kfar Sava.

In another development Sunday, a reliable source reported that France has agreed to pay Israel $75 million for the Mirage jet fighters President Charles de Gaulle refused to deliver after the 1967 Arab-Israeli war.

Special Session of Legislature Gets Underway

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A special session of the legislature, called by Gov. Dale Bumpers to consider 46 items, opens at noon today.

Many of the items to be considered are financial.

Two of the proposals in the call deal with obtaining more federal funds. Under one, the administration hopes to secure $36 million more in Social Security Act funds this biennium to expand the state's services for mentally and physically handicapped. Under the other proposal, the state Board of Finance could issue up to $10 million in revenue bonds to provide matching funds for local governmental units that want to take advantage of pending federal legislation increasing federal financial support of water and sewer improvement projects.

Also in the call are proposals to change the 1971 drug control law and to straighten out problems the Democrats have under existing law in selecting delegates to the national convention.

Predictions by legislators on the length of the session ranged from one to three weeks.

"I look for two or three days of very heated discussion both on and off the floor," said Speaker Ray Smith Jr. of Hot Springs. "Then a pattern will develop and we will do what is the consensus of the Senate and House. Once the consensus is made, it's not difficult to pass a large number of bills."

Sen. Olen Hendrix of Prescott predicted the session would last less than two weeks. "I can't see too much in the call that would be controversial," Hendrix said.

Rep. George E. Nowotny Jr. of Fort Smith, a Republican, predicted a "vocal session" lasting up to three weeks. "Some issues are certainly not going to be as noncontroversial as the governor led us and the public to believe," he said.

Bumpers is expected to address a joint session of the legislature at 8:30 p.m. today. His speech is to be televised.

Nixon Asks Manpower Revenue Sharing

By GAYLORD SHAW
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon today renewed his request that Congress enact a $2 billion manpower revenue-sharing program, contending that the decade-old federal job training effort suffers "from a hardening of governmental arteries."

"We have not bridged the gap between the promises and the performance of federal manpower programs," Nixon said in a message to Congress. "Something better is needed."

The President urged approval of legislation he proposed last year to replace the dozen separate manpower training programs with a single umbrella program which would funnel $1.7 billion to state and local governments the first year.

Another $300 million would be used by the Labor Department for national activities.

The federal funds would be divided among state and local governments "using a formula based on the size of their labor force and the numbers of unemployed and disadvantaged," Nixon said.

The program would authorize

South Vietnamese Fight Hughes Mystery Before U.S. Jury

Enemy on Dozen Fronts

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnamese forces battled the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong today and Sunday at a dozen points from the northern end of the country to the southern tip. It was one of the heaviest periods of action this year, military spokesmen said.

The South Vietnamese command claimed 77 enemy troops killed in the scattered fighting, while 20 South Vietnamese troops were reported killed and 55 wounded.

No American casualties were reported in engagements with enemy troops, but the U.S. Command said one GI was killed and five were injured when a shell exploded accidentally inside a 17mm gun at an artillery base near Da Nang. The command said the accident is being investigated.

The heaviest fighting raged through the mangrove swamps of the U Minh Forest, at the southern end of the Mekong Delta, and on the Ca Mau peninsula to the east. In five clashes in that region, 51 enemy troops and 15 South Vietnamese soldiers were reported killed and 40 government troops were wounded.

Along the eastern end of the demilitarized zone, South Vietnamese marines reported another nine North Vietnamese killed and said one marine was wounded. And in Quang Ngai province south of Da Nang three enemy were slain in a raid, the South Vietnamese Command said.

Two small fights were reported in the central highlands provinces of Kontum and Pleiku, where U.S. officials have been predicting a major north Vietnamese offensive. Enemy forces attacked a village defended by militiamen in Kontum province, and two of the enemy were reported killed and one militiaman was wounded. Two South Vietnamese infantrymen were killed and three wounded in an engagement in Pleiku Province, while enemy losses were not known.

Three other small fights occurred 20 to 50 miles north of Saigon. Twelve North Vietnamese and Viet Cong were reported killed, while South Vietnamese losses were put at three men killed and 10 wounded.

Field commanders attribute the continuing upsurge in fighting to more active allied patrolling to reduce the Communist command's ability to launch attacks during the Tet festival of the lunar new year beginning Feb. 15 and during President Nixon's visit to Red China beginning Feb. 21.

U.S. B52 bombers kept up their heavy attacks along the western side of the central highlands and the northwest frontier, hitting at enemy troop and supply buildups.

Winter Is Returning to Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Winter weather has returned to Arkansas.

A cold front moved rapidly across the state Sunday afternoon and early evening, replacing the warm most southerly winds with a cold blast from the north.

A large arctic high, centered over eastern South Dakota and north into Canada, pumped cold northerly winds across the state Sunday night.

Skies over the state were cloudy early today, but clearing was beginning from the north this morning.

With decreasing cloudiness and continuing northerly winds, highs today will be in the mid 20s north to upper 30s south. Lows tonight should be in the teens north to 20s south.

No precipitation is expected through Tuesday.

Overnight lows include Fayetteville 21, Harrison 19, Jonesboro 23, Pine Bluff 30, Texarkana 37, El Dorado 33, Memphis 27, Little Rock 30 and Fort Smith 25.

Rainfall reports for the 24-hour period ended at 6 a.m. include a trace at Fayetteville, .03 at Harrison, .04 at Pine Bluff, .03 at Texarkana, .05 at El Dorado, .12 at Little Rock, .39 at Jonesboro and .61 at Memphis.

Troops in Vietnam Dip

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Army's strength in Vietnam dropped to below 100,000 last week for the first time in more than six years, and total American military strength fell to 133,700, the U.S. Command announced today.

The weekly U.S. strength summary said that last Thursday the American force included 99,700 Army, 26,600 Air Force, 6,800 Navy, 500 Marines and 100 Coast Guard.

Army strength the previous week was 102,300 men.

The total of 133,700 represented a reduction of 2,800 troops during the week. The U.S. Command must cut another 64,700 troops by May 1 to reach the ceiling of 69,000 set by President Nixon for that date.

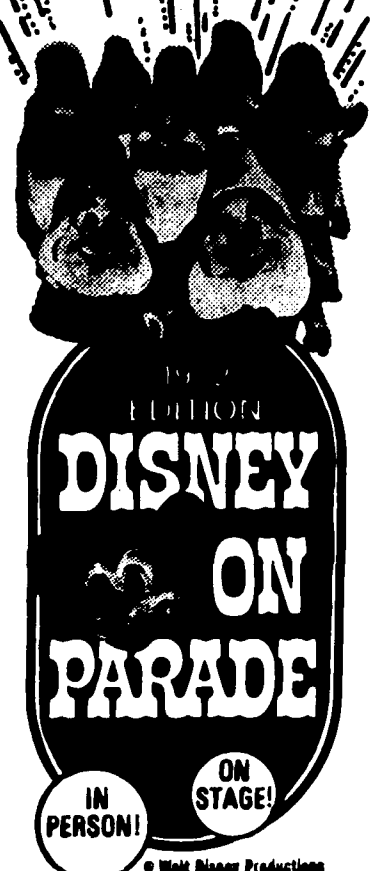

The strength summary does not include 32,000 American servicemen based in Thailand and 13,000 Navy men aboard ships operating off the coast of Vietnam.

Dockers Ban China Cargo

LOS ANGELES (AP) — East Coast longshoremen, who for 20 years have refused to work Russian ships, now will refuse to handle any cargo from Red China unless Peking influences North Vietnam to free American prisoners of war, a top union official says.

"If they want to trade with us, they'll have to get those men released," said John Bowers, executive vice president of the International Longshoremen's Association. The ILA represents more than 100,000 longshoremen working at Eastern and Gulf Coast docks.

such services as remedial education, on-the-job training, short-term employment for teenagers and the elderly, and transitional public service employment at all levels of government, he said.

The White House said the $2 billion figure is a 25 per cent increase over the combined spending on present federal manpower programs. On the effective date—July 1, 1973—additional funds also would be available to areas of high unemployment when national unemployment exceeds 4.5 per cent for three consecutive months.

The special manpower revenue-sharing proposal is part of the $12.3 billion package which Nixon is proposing for such areas as law enforcement, education, transportation, urban and rural development.

Pay Board Hits News Media

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Robert P. Tiernan, executive director of the Pay Board, blames radio, TV and newspapers for much of the criticism leveled against the agency regarding big wage hikes it has approved.

Tiernan, speaking to a labor-management conference, said news reports misled the public concerning the Pay Board's approval of wage hikes for railroad signalmen, aerospace workers and coal miners.

He noted that most of the 46 per cent increase given signalmen was mandated by Congress before the wage-price freeze went into effect.

Tiernan, chief labor lawyer for Kaiser Industries Corp. before taking the Pay Board post a month ago, said the coal miner contract went into effect two days before Pay Board controls were activated.

The Pay Board, said Tiernan, reduced a 12.5 per cent pay hike to aerospace workers to 8.3 per cent. Although that was still higher than the 5.5 per cent "average maximum" increase allowed under board guidelines, he attributed some of the excess to cost-of-living provisions which were negotiated in the aerospace industry in 1968.

Carpeted Classrooms

CHICAGO (AP) — A Seattle physician pulls the rug out from under carpeting in ordinary classrooms.

"It is not as economical as other flooring, requires more care, and is not costually necessary," says Dr. Vivian Harlin of the Seattle schools.

"Carpeting is extremely useful" in large, open spaces in which several groups of children are being taught at the same time and where "an improved acoustical environment is a must," she added in a story in the Journal of the American Medical Association.

Many modern schools have such open areas for instruction instead of, or along with, the traditional classroom which contains only one group at a time.

Challenges Girl to Race

LONDON (AP) — Charlie Chaplin and Louise Brat became friends during a flight into London Sunday, and when they landed the 83-year-old motion picture comic challenged the 4-year-old girl to a wheelchair race in the airport corridors.

But the little girl declined, saying, "You'll win because you are bigger than me."

Chaplin and Louise had wheelchairs waiting for them when they stepped off the plane—he because he's not quite as sprightly as he once was and she because she is recovering from flu. The master comic and his wife Oona are in London to launch a season of his classic films.

By MARCIA CHAMBERS
Associated Press Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Key figures in the Howard Hughes-Clifford Irving "autobiography" mystery are scheduled to appear before a federal grand jury beginning today as the panel enters its second week of investigation into the tangled case.

Irving, his Swiss-born wife Edith and Richard Suskind, a researcher who said in a sworn affidavit that he witnessed a meeting between Hughes and Irving, are among those who have been subpoenaed to testify in the probe of possible mail fraud.

The cast of characters in the drama grew Sunday as Life magazine said a blonde scuba diver, identified as Ann Baxter, flew with Irving to the Virgin Islands last December and gave him scuba lessons while he waited in what he said was an attempt to contact Hughes. She declined to comment on the case.

Irving, a 41-year-old novelist, said in court papers last month that he flew to St. Croix from Miami last Dec. 10 on instructions of a Hughes aide, who he said told him the reclusive billionaire would meet him for a final session on the "autobiography."

Hughes, in a telephone news conference and in court affidavits, had denied ever meeting Irving and has termed the book which Irving sold to McGraw-Hill Publishing Co. a fake.

McGraw-Hill paid Irving $550,000 in three checks for transmittal to Hughes. But Irving conceded two weeks ago that the checks made out to "H.R. Hughes" were deposited and later withdrawn from a Swiss bank by his wife who opened an account as Helga R. Hughes.

On Saturday, Swiss authorities issued an arrest warrant for Mrs. Irving in connection with possible fraud and forgery charges.

Another beautiful woman, Danish cabaret singer Nina van Pallandt, 38, had denied Irving's statement that a meeting between the author and Hughes occurred last February while she and Irving were vacationing in Mexico.

She is expected to fly here from England to testify before the grand jury.

Meanwhile Newsweek magazine said it learned that the manuscript that Irving gave McGraw-Hill—a manuscript apparently annotated by Hughes and used by Irving as proof of his contact with the billionaire—may be part of a manuscript for a 1964 Look magazine profile of Hughes.

Stephen White, author of the Look article, was quoted by Newsweek as saying that the tapes and transcriptions of his interviews with Hughes contained margin notes by the billionaire. But he said he thought all the material had been burned years ago, Newsweek said.

Five Drowned in Texas

MISSION, Tex. (AP) — Fire Chief Ray Landry said today four persons are missing after a dam gate accident sent a surge of water from Anzalduas lake Sunday.

Landry said all were from Mexico and included a boy, 14, from nearby Reynosa. The dam is due south of Mission on the Rio Grande and only a few miles upstream from Reynosa.

Names were not at once available.

Landry said witnesses told him the sirens and lights normally used to inform fishermen of water releases were not used prior to the huge surge of water. Landry said he was told there was a short in the warning system.

The dam is operated by the International Boundary Commission and is used to control the flow of water in the river. At times the dam is used to back up water into the Lower Rio Grande Valley floodway system.

Shakes Off Many 'Hurts'

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Nancy Reagan says the trick to being the wife of the California governor is to concentrate on the advantage and shrug off a "hurtful" lack of privacy.

"You have to fight very hard sometimes to keep some kind of normalcy and privacy in your life," said Mrs. Ronald Reagan in the first of a series of question-and-answer newspaper columns she is writing for The Sacramento Union.

"It seems to be that the trick is to concentrate on the advantages, because to do anything else is self-defeating and negative," she wrote.

"Even though we had a somewhat public life before, it was nothing compared to this. And it can be hurtful at times. It becomes doubly difficult if you have children."

Arabs Say Soviet Arms Outdated

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Some Arab military men are accusing the Russians of sending them outdated heavy artillery, U.S. defense sources say.

The American sources say this is one of the first reports of Arab dissatisfaction with the quality of military aid furnished by the Soviet Union. As with most intelligence, the sources refuse to say how they obtained the information.

Syrian officers were described as claiming that Soviet-supplied heavy guns were obsolete, probably drawn from Russian army storage.

Also, U.S. sources said, the Syrians have complained that spare parts cannot be obtained from Russia, making it difficult to keep the artillery weapons in good working order.

The Syrians and Egyptians are the heaviest recipients of Soviet military hardware among the Arab nations.

Other recent U.S. intelligence reports have told of increasing friction between Soviet advisers and Egyptian officers, particularly at the battalion and brigade levels. Egyptian officers were pictured as feeling there is too much interference by Soviet military men stationed with their units.

Large numbers of Russian advisers also are attached to staffs of Egyptian army brigades, divisions and higher headquarters, U.S. reports say. These Russians reportedly exert influence in promotions and assignments of Egyptian officers.

Russians also take a direct hand in detailed operational planning for the Egyptian army, sources said, and sit on the faculties of Egyptian army schools where they shape the courses of study and training.

U.S. officials estimate between 12,000 and 15,000 Soviet advisers are with the Egyptian army, air force and navy. About 3,000 of these are Russian army men serving with Egyptian infantry, tanks, artillery and antiaircraft units.

Estrangement of Soviet advisers from their clients also is reflected in an intelligence report to a House Foreign Affairs subcommittee on the situation in Cuba where an estimated 3,000 Russians are at work.

"The Cubans see their advisers as dour, crude and aloof," the report says. "Even in the work environment most Cubans try to avoid the Soviet advisers and technicians except where their expertise is essential to the job at hand ..."

India Gives Bangladesh Aid

By DENNIS NEED
Associated Press Writer
CALCUTTA (AP) — Prime Minister Indira Gandhi handed over $14.7 million worth of transport and other aid today to Prime Minister Mujibur Rahman of Bangladesh to meet immediate and pressing needs of his new nation.

The gifts included 50 jeeps, 136 ambulances and 800 trucks. Each truck contained 200 bags of powdered milk.

The formal presentation followed the two prime ministers' second round of talks in the governor's palace. Mujib arrived in Calcutta Sunday for a two-day visit with Mrs. Gandhi.

India agreed earlier to give Bangladesh $33.3 million in urgently needed items and to lend it the equivalent of $13 million in sterling foreign exchange.

The Sheikh told a rally of nearly half a million people Sunday that the United States had ignored the sufferings of his people and given "arms to Pakistan when the massacre of my innocent countrymen was going on in towns and villages."

"And because India helped us," Mujib continued, "the United States cut off aid to India. While today I express my gratitude to the many countries who have recognized us, I cannot express gratitude to the United States."

In Dacca, Mujib's capital, an official source said more than 1,000 weapons have been found in buried caches in the suburb of Mirpur, which is populated by members of the Bihari minority. The official said Pakistani soldiers apparently buried the weapons so they could be used by the Biharis to harass the Bangladesh authorities and create disturbances.

Plans are under way to evacuate the suburb by sections to facilitate the search for arms. About 1,000 Bihari men from the area have been interned in Dacca's central jail, and almost 3,000 Bihari women, children and old people have been put in an isolated concentration camp 18 miles from the city.

Mirpur houses an estimated 300,000 Biharis. Many came from other sections to escape persecution by the Bengali majority, who blame the Biharis for atrocities committed during the civil war.

The Dacca government says the Biharis have murdered about 350 Bengalis since the war ended and have dumped their bodies into mass graves, but newsmen have not been allowed to see the graves.

Meanwhile, President Zulfikar Ali Bhutto of Pakistan sent a message to all heads of state, including Mujib, charging that the non-Bengali population in Bangladesh is threatened "as a result of planned retaliation and reprisals by armed personnel." The message called on the heads of state to take "active cognizance of the situation and stop atrocities and killings of innocent people."

Guajiro Indians of Colombia and Venezuela set their own work quotas then when they feel they have done enough they return to their hammocks.

Wants Woman on Commission

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Board of Directors of the Arkansas Thoroughbred Breeders Association said Sunday if the state Racing Commission is split a woman member of the association should be appointed to the commission governing horse racing.

State Sen. Q. Byrum Hurst of Hot Springs has suggested that the commission be separated into two groups—one governing horse racing and the other overseeing greyhound racing. The board said Sunday it had no objection to dividing the racing commission.

However, the board said the association should be represented on the commission and they recommended that their member be a woman.

"Most of the wives of the 200 members are as deeply interested and involved in thoroughbred breeding as are their husbands and in most cases," they handle the record keeping and financial matters, the board said.

Helen Bottel Helen Help Us!

Has It Redeeming Social Value?

DEAR HELEN:
Would I get arrested if I sent in my movie film to be developed, and would a commercial company develop it? It's of nudes and things like that. —MR. THOMAS

DEAR MR. T.: (Does your first name begin with "P" as in "Peeping"?)
It all depends on the "things like that." Commercial film processors are allowed by law to destroy "pornographic" films sent in by customers, and the decision rests with the company. If your nudes are naughty, you'll receive a letter saying they are forever gone—but you won't be arrested.

Smaller, privately owned outfits may do your films—at a price. —H.

DEAR HELEN:

I had a "satisfactory" marriage for more than 15 years. Never a problem about finances, status, even health; rarely an argument, and then quickly settled. But not much fire either. I had the opportunity to stray but didn't. Then it happened!

When I first met this wonderful "other" woman, I knew what I'd been missing. After a month of fighting with my conscience, I strayed. It was truly a dream come true.

The awakening came seven weeks later. Suddenly she announced, "I think I'll get married later in the year." The woman I thought had been completely true to me was walking out of my life. I felt like an empty shell.

After 18 months, I still can't get over her. I tried to call. She got an unlisted number. I send her gifts and letters. She does not acknowledge them, and she may not receive them, as she has moved. (Naturally I put no return address on my correspondence; I couldn't chance their coming back to my house.)

How can someone profess "love" and then so quickly turn it off? Am I better off with my marriage that is based on mutual understanding, or should I seek another great passion to destroy the memories? —NUMBED

DEAR NUMB:
Haven't you learned yet that "great passion" doesn't wear as well as mutual understanding?

Ask yourself this question: "If my wife threw me out, would I be as desolate as I THINK I am right now?" And before she does, I'd suggest you try working up a bit of passion at home. —H.

DEAR HELEN:

Equality between men and women on the job is still far from here! Consider this:

I worked as private secretary to the president of a good-sized company, and I had a great deal of responsibility. When things became rough financially, I and other secretaries took our 20 per cent cut along with the men. Then came the time for the company to hand out stock—and we women were left in the wings. We were told that secretaries were not allowed to have stock, but even the men in the factory got in on the bonanza.

Another situation cropped up. The men were sent to California to help the company sell a trade show. I had invaluable knowledge and could have been of great assistance—and at first I was promised a chance to go. The—thumbs down! It seemed that the general manager said it would cause talk—a woman travelling with men.

Helen, I've left that company, but I feel a grave injustice has been done me—and others who will follow me may receive the same treatment. Whom can I contact to stop this discrimination? —EXECUTIVE SECRETARY

ABA Against Sexy Ads in U.S. Mails

By BARRY SCHWEID
Associated Press Writer

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Support is being lined up in the American Bar Association for legislation banning sexy advertising from the mails.

The drive comes from the ABA's criminal law section and has the approval of the Justice Department. The next step is up to the ABA's policy-setting House of Delegates, which convenes today.

The proposed ban on salacious ads moving across state lines was introduced last month in the Senate by Sen. Roman L. Hruska, R-Neb., and in the House by Rep. William M. McCulloch, R-Ohio.

Anyone who mails or transports a sexually explicit ad would face prosecution and a $50,000 fine or five years in prison. The ban would not cover ads that are a small part of a catalog, book or magazine that is not devoted primarily to sex.

Leaders of the criminal law section voted 12 to 4 to support the legislation. The dissenters favored an amendment requiring the homeowner who does not want to receive such ads to first notify postal authorities.

Justice William E. Erickson of Colorado, the section chairman, said the majority "felt there were no First Amendment or Constitutional problems."

Meanwhile, a second ABA group asked the House of Delegates to back bills in Congress to study the growing number of cases before federal appeals courts.

In 10 years the number of appeals has nearly tripled while the number of judges has increased by about one-third, said the report by lawyer C. Frank Reifsnyder of Washington, D.C.

The pending legislation would create a commission to revise the federal appeals court system.

In a third report, the section of antitrust law asked support for legislation to enlarge the authority of the Federal Trade Commission to protect consumers.

In prepared remarks for the opening of the House of Delegates meeting, ABA President Leon Jaworski of Houston, Tex., said he backs a bill to put the government's legal aid program for the poor in a new, independent corporation to protect it from political interference.

Last week, the director of the program, Fred Speaker, accused Vice President Spiro T. Agnew of such interference. Jaworski did not comment on the dispute in his prepared remarks.

U.S. Hockey Team Pulls Upset Over the Czechs

By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
SAPPORO, Japan (AP) — What Julie Holmes and Janet Lynn couldn't do on ice skates, the United States hockey team did—but none of them could come close to what Ard Schenk achieved at the 11th Winter Olympic Games.

Miss Holmes, of North Hollywood, Calif., was a distant second to Austria's Beatrix Schuba going into Monday night's freeskating finals of the women's singles figure skating and Miss Lynn, from Rockford, Ill., was fourth behind Karen Mag-nussen of Canada. And, just as she said she would, Miss Schuba, cool and confident as ever, used that commanding lead to breeze away to victory and a gold medal while Miss Holmes faded to fourth, giving Miss Magnusson, the North American champion, the silver and Miss Lynn, the four-time U.S. titlist, the bronze, America's second in the games.

The U.S. hockey team, however, had brilliant form, particularly in the nets, where goalie Mike Curran turned aside all but one of 52 shots as the Americans, erupting for three second-period goals, stunned second-ranked Czechoslovakia 5-1.

But even that stunning show was nothing compared to the latest feat of the Games' Flying Dutchman.

Schenk, the dashing, 27-year-old bachelor from The Netherlands, gliding over the ice with the same graceful, powerful strides that brought him the golds in the 1,500 and 5,000-meter speed skating tests earlier in these Games, became a member of the elite.

He succeeded in capturing the Triple Crown, burning up the 10,000 meters in an Olympic record 15 minutes, 1.35 seconds.

It was the first time a triple had been scored in speed skating since 1952, when Norway's Hjalmar Anderson swept the same three events. The only other one came in 1936 when Ivar Ballangrud, another Norwegian, won the 500, 5,000 and 10,000 meters.

Schenk's gold medal was one of six handed out in Monday's competition.

The others went to Bernhard Russi, whose victory in the downhill gave Switzerland a sweep in Alpine skiing, and to Sven-Ake Lundback of Sweden, who scored a major upset by winning the 15-kilometer cross-country race.

The 10,000 meters, sometimes a monotonous race, maintained a high pitch of excitement as the crowd of 13,000 waited to see Schenk skate in the last of the 12 pairs.

Earlier, teammate Cees Verkerk had taken the lead with a clocking of 15:04.70.

"I thought I might set a world record," Schenk said after breaking the Olympic mark of 15:23.6 but falling short of his own world record of 14:55.90.

"But my coach was holding up his fingers to tell me how many seconds I had over Verkerk and my main task was to beat him.

"Verkerk had finished so strongly that I knew I had to hold my lap times to win ... so I concentrated on that and forgot about the world record," Schenk said.

With Verkerk getting the silver, the bronze went to Sten Stensen of Norway with 15:07.08.

Dan Carroll of St. Louis, who had placed 10th in the 5,000 meters and seventh in the 1,500, continued as the most successful United States speed skating entry, finishing ninth in the 10,000 with 15:44.41.

Russi was ecstatic about his triumph in the downhill, one of the Games' most glamorous events.

Russi beat fellow Swiss skier Roland Collombin by matching teammate Maria Theresa Nadig's Saturday downhill time of 1:51.43 on the 2,640-meter course. Collombin took the silver in 1:52.40.

Without their ace skier, Karl Schranz, barred from the Olympic Games due to professionalism, the Austrians had to settle for the bronze medal on Heinrich Messner's time of 1:53.19.

Lundback, a 24-year-old electrician, led the 15-kilometer cross-country from the start and won it in 45:28.24—quite an accomplishment for someone who happened to be the last man to be selected to Sweden's Nordic ski team.

Records show the previous high mark for three games of 886 was set Oct. 25, 1939, by Olle Brandt of Lockport N.Y.

Southland Is Rejected

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Southland Racing Corp.'s application for racing dates at Southland Greyhound Park in West Memphis has been rejected.

The state Racing Commission turned down the application Saturday on a 3-1 vote.

C. B. Nance Jr. of West Memphis, a Southland attorney, asked the commission to reconsider its decision, saying the state could lose $3.5 million if dog races are not held at Southland this year. A motion to reconsider the decision failed to get a second.

The three commission members appointed by former Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller—Guy Newcomb of Osceola, Dr. J. D. Bilberry of McGehee and Dr. M. R. Springer of Hot Springs—voted against Southland. H. M. Osborn of Dardanelle voted in favor of granting the dates. Chairman J. W. "Buddy" Benefield of England did not vote.

Rejection of the application apparently stems from a commission order last July revoking Southland's racing franchise unless Emprise Corp. of Buffalo, N.Y. divested itself of all but 10 percent of Southland's stock. Emprise still holds more than 45 percent of

Little Giant for Colonels

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Louie Dampier is only six feet tall—a mere midget in the American Basketball Association—and it's easy to overlook him.

But opponents of the Kentucky Colonels have learned—and still are learning—not to take him lightly.

The New York Nets were the latest to feel the wrath of little Louie's sting. Dampier clicked on his first 13 two-point field goal attempts Sunday night and finished with a season high of 39 points, sparking the Colonels to a 118-106 victory over the Nets.

Elsewhere in the ABA, the Floridians overpowered Pittsburgh 144-117, Denver surprised Indiana 115-107, and Dallas walked Memphis 107-84.

Dampier, who has logged more playing time than any player in ABA history, is first in three-point field goal attempts, second in number of points scored and second in career assists, has been overshadowed this season by 7-2 rookie Artis Gilmore and 6-9 scoring leader Dan Issel.

But against the Nets, he outdid them both, hitting on 16 of his 18 floor shots.

Another six-footer, Mack Calvin, returned to action after a bout with the flu and connected for 37 points, helping the Floridians end a six-game losing streak and register their highest point total of the season.

Calvin had a lot of help. Willie Long had 24 points and 20 rebounds. Warren Jabali netted 22 points and had nine assists, and Manny Leaks grabbed 17 rebounds and scored 12 points.

John Brisker led Pittsburgh with 40 points and George Thompson had 30.

Chuck Williams scored a career high of 36 points in leading Denver's victory over Indiana in the second half of a double-header at Denver. Frank Card added 23 points for the Rockets, while Mel Daniels was high for the Pacers with 19 points and 21 rebounds.

In the opening game, Dallas raced to a 30-16 first period lead over Memphis and never was threatened. Donnie Freeman paced Dallas' balanced attack with 23 points. Wilbert Jones topped the Pros with 24 points.

In the ABA Saturday, it was: Virginia 125, New York 117; Kentucky 117, Denver 106, and Pittsburgh 136, Carolina 129.

Southland's stock, Nance said.

The revocation order has been stayed until an appeal is heard in Pulaski Circuit Court.

"I can't see approving it (the application) as long as the case is pending in court," Bilberry said.

Springer said it could be "inconsistent to vote yes when we voted to revoke the franchise."

Newcomb said "we wouldn't be in this predicament" if Emprise had been as cooperative as Southland and Nance.

Denial of the racing dates can be appealed to Circuit Court in the same manner in which the franchise revocation order is being appealed.

AU to Open With McNeese

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP) — Arkansas State University will open its 1972 11-game football schedule on Sept. 9 against McNeese State University at Jonesboro.

This is the first year the Indians will play an 11-game regular schedule.

Don Floyd, ASU athletic director, said the Indians would play McNeese, Eastern New Mexico and the University of Tennessee at Chattanooga for the first time. He also said UT-Chattanooga and Eastern New Mexico were on the schedule only in 1972 and that ASU would not play Trinity after this fall.

Floyd said he may have "some exciting news concerning our 1973 and 1974 schedules in the very near future."

"We are still encountering scheduling problems which relate to trying to gain major status, but there have been some breakthroughs and I am greatly encouraged about the immediate future," he said.

Orf Has Two Perfect Games

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Ray Orf, 30-year-old St. Louis bowler, rolled two perfect games and a third game of 290 Sunday to beat an American Bowling Congress record by four pins.

Orf bowled the three-game series of 890 in a mixed league at West Bowl. He was bowling with his son Richard, age 7.

Orf, who averages 212 in league play, missed a strike to start the first game. He then got 35 strikes in a row.

Records show the previous high mark for three games of 886 was set Oct. 25, 1939, by Olle Brandt of Lockport N.Y.

Jones Captures Hawaiian Crown

HONOLULU (AP) — Grier Jones heaved a big sigh of relief and said, "I was beginning to wonder if I was ever going to win."

The 25-year-old Jones had just bested Bob Murphy in a sudden-death playoff for the $40,000 first prize in the Hawaiian Open golf tournament Sunday. It was his first professional victory.

"I have two friends, Johnny Miller and Jerry Heard, who came out here (on the pro tour) the same time I did three years ago and they both won last year," Jones said.

"I was starting to wonder if it'd ever happen to me."

Jones, a former national collegiate champion and one-time pro rookie of the year, fashioned a brilliant, eight-under-par 64 in the final round to catch the front-running Murphy with a 72-hole total of 274, 14 under par on the lush, 7,122-yard Waialae County Club course.

Both Jones and Murphy, who had a final-round 69, reached the green in two on the first playoff hole. The red-haired Murphy lagged up a long putt to about two feet away. Jones missed from 30 feet.

Then Murphy failed on the short putt and his husky shoulders slumped in dejection.

Jones faced one of about the same length.

"I said to myself, it's two feet. You don't want to waste all those years of hard work on a two-foot putt," Jones said. He rolled it in.

Murphy settled for $22,800 from the total purse of $200,000.

Masters champion Charles Coody took third with a 68 for 275, just one stroke back. He missed badly on a long birdie putt on the final hole that would have put him in the play-off.

Behind him came Marty Fleckman, 68-276, Don Bies, 65-277, and five more at 278. They were Bob Rosburg, John Schlee, Jim Jamieson, Bunky

Porkers Win, Avoid the SWC Cellar

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Arkansas took a giant step toward avoiding the Southwest Conference basketball cellar Saturday by defeating Rice 103-96.

The victory upped the Razorbacks' SWC record to 2-4. Rice dropped to 0-6.

Both teams made numerous mistakes. Rice committed 26 turnovers and 36 personal fouls. Arkansas turned the ball over 25 times. The Arkansas starters left the game with a 19-point lead in the second half.

The Razorbacks jumped off to a 5-0 lead and led by 49-41 at the half.

Martin Terry led the Razorbacks as usual with 23 points. Vernon Murphy had 18, Dean Tolson 16, Jody Bass 14 and Doug Campbell 11.

The Razorbacks play Baylor Tuesday night at Waco, Tex.

Andretti Back in Limelight

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — "Life's two darkest years" ended suddenly and happily for Mario Andretti. With help from a Belgian buddy, he was back in worldwide auto racing headlines.

"I've been itching for 1972 to begin," said the little Italian-American. "My career was dented and bruised in 1970-71. Gobs of bad luck. When it rained, it poured."

The 1969 Indianapolis 500 winner coupled talents Sunday with Jacky Ickx of Brussels to wheel a sometimes-chugging Ferrari to an easy victory in the six-hour Daytona Continental.

"You might say it was a Ferrari family affair," said Andretti. "Our chief competition was our own team. As long as Ferraris run properly, they'll run all the way to victory lane."

Four miles behind the Andretti-Ickx exhaust on the 3.8-mile Daytona road course was another Ferrari handled by Ronnie Peterson of Sweden and Tim Schenken of Australia.

Alfa Romeo's outgunned team salvaged third on the driving talents of Englishman Vic Elford and Helmut Marko of Austria. The Alfa was 18 miles in arrears of the winning Ferrari.

Clay Regazzoni of Switzerland and Brian Redman of England survived two minor wrecks to grab fourth and give famed carmaker Enzo Ferrari three of the top four places.

"It broke a jinx for me," said Andretti, a three-time U.S. Auto Club driving champion. "Running minus one out of 12 cylinders couldn't even beat us. It's a sweet victory ... winning never gets old."

The Italian-born driver from Nazareth, Pa., while relishing the Ferrari triumph, was especially eager to dive into Championship Car competition that includes the Indy 500.

Henry and Curtis Sifford. Lee Trevino made an eagle three on the final hole for 70 and 279. He was tied at that figure with Arnold Palmer, who closed with a 66. Jack Nicklaus, never really a factor in the event, was far back at 285.

Jones, a shaggy-haired blond, had been closed to victory before but always let it slip away. Until Sunday, he hadn't lived up to his predicted bright future. He had a poor season last year and lost his exemption from qualifying for tournaments. And he admitted that at times he had been discouraged.

"But golf's my whole life. It's everything. I'd still be playing if I couldn't break 80," he said. He birdied the first two holes after iron shots left him short putts, then made his big move with a string of five birdies in six holes starting on the eighth. They included a pair of 25-foot birdie putts on the 11th and 12th.

Scores 56 for Royals

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

"It's not good for a team to have one player doing all the scoring," said Chet Walker.

It was good for the Chicago Bulls Sunday, as Walker set a club record with a 56-point bombardment against Cincinnati in pacing a 119-94 victory over the Royals.

Walker, in his 10th season in the National Basketball Association—and his third with the Bulls—shattered the Chicago record of 47 points, established by Bob Love against Milwaukee on Mar. 15, 1970.

After the best performance of his NBA career, the modest Walker said: "I don't delude myself in saying that getting 50 points is not a great achievement but that has never been a goal for me. I never scored that many points in college or high school."

The 6-foot-7, 220-pound forward said he "was feeling good before the game and I knew that I was going to do pretty well."

But that well? "Defenses today are such that scoring 50 points or better is rare," he said, "and I do not think there will be too many players doing this too often."

Elsewhere in the NBA, Boston defeated Seattle 128-123, New York edged Philadelphia 109-107, Buffalo whipped Cleveland 121-109, Houston downed Atlanta 120-113, Phoenix took Portland 107-94, and Los Angeles overwhelmed Baltimore 151-127.

Walker, whose previous pro career high was 44 points, scored five points in an eight-point Chicago spurt that carried the Bulls into the lead for good 75-68 in the third period. He broke the record with nine consecutive points in the fourth period. Over-all he hit 22 of 30 field goals and 12 of 14 free throws.

Boston's John Havlicek poured in 42 points—one short of his career high—in pacing the Celtics to their seventh straight victory. Spencer Haywood got 32 points for Seattle.

Bill Bradley collected 28 points, including a field goal with 51 seconds left and a foul shot with 10 seconds remaining, leading the Knicks past Philadelphia. The 76ers' Fred Carter hit a career high of 36 points, while teammate Hal Greer played in his 1,059th game, tying the NBA record held by retired Dolph Schayes.

Walt Hazzard scored Buffalo's last eight points in the third quarter and its first six in the fourth period, and finished with 38 in sparking the Braves' triumph. The loss was Cleveland's fifth in a row.

Calvin Murphy tallied 27 points, 21 in the second half, Elvin Hayes had 26 points and 22 rebounds and Mike Newlin sank four consecutive field goals in the fourth quarter, helping Houston top Atlanta.

Paul Silas hit for 26 points, including 14 in the key third period, as Phoenix whipped Portland for the ninth straight time despite 33 points by the Trail Blazers' Geoff Petrie.

The Lakers, in romping over Baltimore, extended their winning string to six and got balanced scoring, led by John Q. Trapp's 27 points. Archie Clark registered 38 points for the Bulls.

Minnesota Players Hold Tempers

By KEN RAPPOPORT

Associated Press Sports Writer
It was Minnesota's first game at home since the bloody fight with Ohio State.

Iowa's Kevin Kunnert and Minnesota's Dave Winfield tumbled to the floor with a thud under the basket. Both leaped to their feet and cocked fists, their faces warped by anger.

The crowd of 16,784 hunched forward, frozen ... but nothing happened this time.

Outside of a crucial 53-52 Big Ten basketball victory over Iowa, it was the nicest thing that happened to Minnesota Coach Bill Musselman all night. No fight.

"Actually, we're afraid to sneeze now," said Musselman, "if our kids would have done anything ... I would have been surprised."

Musselman has felt the pinch ever since the Jan. 25 match between Ohio State and Minnesota erupted into a fist-swirling war, sending two Buckeye players to the hospital with concussions and resulting in the season-long suspension of two Gopher players.

The affair has sparked criticism of Musselman's coaching style. His detractors accuse him of "animalizing" his players and claim this was the key to the fight.

Musselman, hammered by public outrage, chooses his actions carefully these days. He's even gone so far as to cast aside the gold blazer he wore the night of the fight. "I'll never wear it again," he says.

The victory for 19th-ranked Minnesota kept the Gophers tied with No. 9 Ohio State for the Big Ten lead. Both had 6-1 records after the Buckeyes defeated Wisconsin 79-69.

UCLA, the country's No. 1 team, broke away from Southern California in the race for the Pacific-8 championship by whipping the Trojans 81-56.

Marquette, No. 2, clobbered DePaul 79-61; third-ranked Louisville stopped Drake 92-75; No. 6 Penn clouted Dartmouth 86-66; No. 7 Virginia defeated North Carolina State 69-68; eighth-rated South Carolina took Clemson 62-58 and No. 10 Brigham Young whipped Texas-El Paso 57-53 in two overtimes in other games involving Top Ten teams.

Tension was high before the Minnesota-Iowa game. Paul Giel, athletic director at Minnesota, asked the crowd to give the Hawkeyes a warm reception when they took the court. The fans responded with a standing ovation for the visitors, then exploded with a roar when the Gophers came out.

The home team then went through its gaudy warmup, passing and dribbling to music. The Harlem Globetrotter-type theatrics stirred the partisans to "oohs" and "aahs."

While all this was going on inside Williams Arena, petitions were circulated outside asking that the suspended Minnesota players be reinstated. The drive is being directed by the Afro-American Action Committee, which claims that Corky Taylor and Ron Behagen are victims of racial prejudice.

Jim Brewer's three points in the last 90 seconds provided the winning margin for the Gophers. He fired a field goal, then delivered a free throw with 12 seconds left to give Minnesota a 53-50 lead before Harold Sullivan scored a two-pointer for Iowa.

UCLA crushed Southern Cal behind a Bruin bomb squad, led as usual, by center Bill Walton. He threw in 22 points and fielded 10 rebounds in a mere 30 minutes of play. The Trojans were without injured star Paul Westphal.

"We knew Westphal wouldn't play," said UCLA Coach John Wooden. "But we weren't going to be lulled to sleep. They don't have hamburgers out there, you know. They have some fine players, some very fine players, and we knew the game wouldn't be as much of a rout as some had predicted."

"The game didn't start the way we wanted it to," said Southern Cal Coach Bob Boyd in an understatement.

Walton broke loose for a three-point play and then the Trojans turned over the ball and UCLA went in again for a score. It was 5-0 before Boyd had a chance to sneeze.

Hope No Trouble for Fairview

By BILL MOORE

Star Sports Writer

Unable to stay with a hot shooting Fairview team in the second half, the Hope Bobcats suffered a 56-33 loss last Friday night in the Cardinal gym.

Hope's conference mark now stands at 1-6 while Fairview bolsters their league lead with a 7-0 loop mark.

As the game began, Fairview took the ball first, but the Bobcats put the ball through the net first as Danny Joyce hit a free throw with only 30 seconds played. However, two quick field goals put Fairview back on top, 4-1, with 5:14 left to play.

A driving layup by Joyce and a quick jumpshot by Bill Rowland offset shots by Bill Kennedy and William Reynolds to keep the difference of margins fairly close and the gap was narrowed to three when Joyce banked one off the board with seven seconds to go.

Moving into the second period with the score in Fairview's favor, 11-8, Joyce hit on another free throw to narrow the gap to two points with 6:07 left in the half, and with James Bradley popping the net twice from the outside, the Cats stayed very close.

Outscored, 7-2, in the last three minutes though, Hope headed for the dressing room at halftime trailing, 23-15.

At that point it looked as if Hope might turn it into a good game, after employing a first half slow down ballgame, but due to Fairview's second half hot streak, that wasn't to be.

Of the 22 points scored in the third period, Fairview had 13 of them for a 36-24 margin, with Hope hitting five free shots and two field goals.

Hot shooting by Kennedy lifted the Cardinals on up as the score now began to increase some, with Hope getting their last nine points of the game on shots by Joyce, Rowland, Danny Boyette, and Mike Harris.

Joyce led Hope with 14 points, followed by Rowland with nine.

Critical of Candidates' Stand on Peace Proposal

By MICHAEL PUTZEL
Associated Press Writer

Sen. Henry M. Jackson, one of the more hawkish Democratic presidential candidates, has called for "a cooling-off period" on criticism of President Nixon's Vietnam peace proposals.

"There will be plenty of time to hold the President accountable," the Washington senator said, "but I think the Democrats can hurt themselves by being so critical that you don't give the President a chance to even negotiate at a time when he is about to leave for Peking, which could be an important part of this whole effort."

Jackson made the remark Sunday on ABC's "Issues and Answers" broadcast when asked if his criticism of Sen. Edmund S. Muskie was part of an "informal gang-up" against the front-running Democratic contender.

Jackson denied that he was ganging up on the Maine senator but said the timing of Muskie's criticism of Nixon's latest peace proposals was unfortunate.

"The President is in the process of negotiating, and I think it would be well to have a cooling-off period," he added.

Another Democratic contender, Eugene J. McCarthy, defended Muskie's criticism of Nixon but said he had "some slight disagreement with the Muskie position."

McCarthy, a former senator from Minnesota, said on NBC's "Meet the Press" he didn't agree at all with a statement by Secretary of State William P. Rogers that candidates this year should follow the example set by Nixon in 1968 of not doing anything that might undermine negotiations.

In explaining his own position on Vietnam, the 1968 peace candidate said, "I have not really been a strong advocate of a definite withdrawal date. I think that is the last desperate step you take."

"We ought to negotiate a new government in South Vietnam," McCarthy said, "and everything else would be related to that."

Different From Bra Burners

MAGNOLIA, Ark. (AP) — LaDonna Harris, an officer of the National Political Women's Caucus, says women involved in women's liberation are not those who are burning their bras in New York as men think.

"To the contrary, we want the things that women have a right to do because of their individual abilities," Mrs. Harris said Saturday at a conference on women's rights.

She also said that women are going to have to learn to ask for something in return for their work in political campaigns.

Dock Strike Discussion Continues

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Talks in the 122-day West Coast dock strike drone on in quest of a contract agreement before congress votes a legislated settlement.

Sam Kagel, a private mediator, kept the negotiating teams at the bargaining table in weekend talks which extended into Sunday night.

Effects of increasing pressures from the White House and Congress were evident.

"We're working specifics now," said an International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union spokesman.

"We're making progress, no doubt of that," said a spokesman for the employer Pacific Maritime Association. "The question is will we run into any icebergs."

"We're working now on the whole package," said Kagel, called in last Wednesday as a private mediator in the prolonged dispute.

Chairman Frank Thompson, D-N.J., of the House Labor subcommittee, said his group will meet today and try to approve a bill "that will end the strike." Thompson, friendly to organized labor, said he hoped the bill could be brought to a House vote Wednesday.

If the House Labor subcommittee fails to report a strike settlement measure quickly, the House Rules Committee is expected to order floor action on President Nixon's measure to stop the strike.

The administration bill would end the strike at once and create a three-man arbitration board to impose settlement terms extending for 18 months. Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, Mont., urged the Senate Labor Committee to report its version of the President's proposal this week.

The Florida White House on Saturday accused union President Harry Bridges of "making veiled threats to the nation" in his congressional hearing testimony.

Ronald Ziegler, presidential press secretary, said Bridges' statements showed an "unfortunate attitude" on the union's part which hampers settlement chances.

Ziegler said he referred to Bridges' hint before the House subcommittee that there would be a dock slowdown or a worldwide shipping tie-up if the ILWU's 13,000 dockers were forced by law to return to work.

Score Right But Wrong Winner

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The final score of Sunday night's National Hockey League game between the Boston Bruins and Buffalo Sabres was 8-2, just about as expected. Only thing was ... Buffalo won.

That was surprising, to say the least, since the East Division-leading Bruins hadn't lost in 13 games and the cellar-dwelling Sabres hadn't won in seven.

It was the most goals in Buffalo's two-year expansion history and the most against the Bruins this season as the Sabres pumped 37 shots at beleaguered goalie Ed Johnston, with Rick Martin and ex-Bruin Jim Lorentz each scoring twice.

"We were outskated, outhit and outthrustled ... everything," said Boston Coach Tom Johnston. "It was the worst game the Bruins have played since I've been coach."

Elsewhere, New York and Toronto battled to a 2-2 tie, Montreal beat Vancouver 4-2, St. Louis and Philadelphia tied 2-2 in their first meeting since a Jan. 6 riot, Chicago blanked Minnesota 5-0 and Detroit walloped California 8-2.

Buffalo began its rout of the mighty Bruins with three goals in less than three minutes late in the first period by Don Luce, Gerry Meehan and Martin. Mike Byers, Eddie Shack and Lorentz made it 6-0 before Mike Walton scored for Boston late in the second period.

Says Voters Independent

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., says Arkansas voters are too independent to be correlated into groups and that his campaign for re-election will appeal to "all Arkansans," rather than any segment of voters.

McClellan made the remarks during the taping of "Challe 72," which was shown Sunday by television stations KARK-TV.

McClellan said any opponent who directs his campaign to a particular segment of voters would be making a mistake. The senator said he would make a "formal announcement" of his candidacy at the "proper time," but reiterated that he planned to run for re-election.

Bus Hijacker's Gun Is Returned by Girl

SALISBURY, N.C. (AP) — At one time during an 80-mile-per-hour ride with a bus hijacker, 15-year-old Shirley Jane Clookey meekly retrieved the man's lost gun and gave it back to him.

"I was scared, and afraid of what he might do," she said of the incident.

The gun, it was discovered later, was loaded with blanks.

Shirley, of Largo, Fla., was one of 10 passengers on the Continental Trailways bus when it left High Point, N.C., early Sunday.

Minutes later, a man pulled a pistol and told the bus driver he was taking command. He forced the driver to leave Interstate 85 and drive along side roads.

Miss Clookey said the hijacker forced her and another girl to collect all of the passengers' watches and jewelry in paper bags.

Then, she said, he told her to stay on the bus and said he would let her out in Florida. The other passengers and the driver were ordered off.

Pursued by at least 15 police cars with sirens wailing, the hijacker steered a 40-mile zig-zag course through four central North Carolina counties, hitting speeds of 80 miles an hour. He forced Miss Clookey to lie across his lap, his gun at her head.

At one point, he dropped the gun and asked the girl to find it and return it to him. She said she did.

At Salisbury, the bus crashed through an empty oil tanker and a police car set up as a roadblock, then collided with a car parked behind the barricade. The driver of the car, 69-year-old Brooks Phillips of Salisbury, was injured seriously.

The bus came to a stop on its side in a ditch. Miss Clookey and her abductor escaped serious injury.

Police arrested Donald Ray Henderson, 22, of Atlanta and charged him with 17 felonies, including kidnaping and armed robbery, in the hijacking. He was being held under $64,000 bond.

Authorities at the Broward Medical Center in Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., said Henderson escaped Friday while being taken to surgery. He was an inmate at the South Florida Mental Hospital.

Selectman J. Wally Moccia said: "We've had top security in the town for months."

"I hope we can go to bed some night and know that this problem is behind us."

Fire Leaves 1000 Without a Job

By PHILIP W. CANNADAY
Associated Press Writer
WAKEFIELD, Mass. (AP) — A state task force is heading efforts to help 1,000 workers left jobless by a $15 million fire in an industrial center.

The six-member group from the Massachusetts Department of Commerce and Development will also try to find space for the 18 firms which were destroyed or damaged in a series of fires which have hit Wakefield.

And it will also explore means of providing financial aid to this community of 25,000 north of Boston.

"There's a whole state wanting to know how it can help," Thomas Atkins, secretary of commerce and development, told town officials and industrial leaders Sunday.

The fire broke out Saturday night in the Robie Industrial Center. Firemen were hampered by winds gusting to 50 miles per hour and a temperature of 7 degrees. It was controlled early Sunday.

During 1971, there were 34

fires of undetermined origin in Wakefield, including four minor blazes at the Robie center.

"The mood of the town is one of bewilderment," said Lawrence J. McCluskey, chairman of the city's five-man board of selectmen. He said Wakefield had put on extra police patrols in an effort to halt the fires.

Fire Chief Walter Maloney Jr. said the blaze apparently started in a building owned by Continental Chemical Co., an adhesives manufacturer with a payroll of 55.

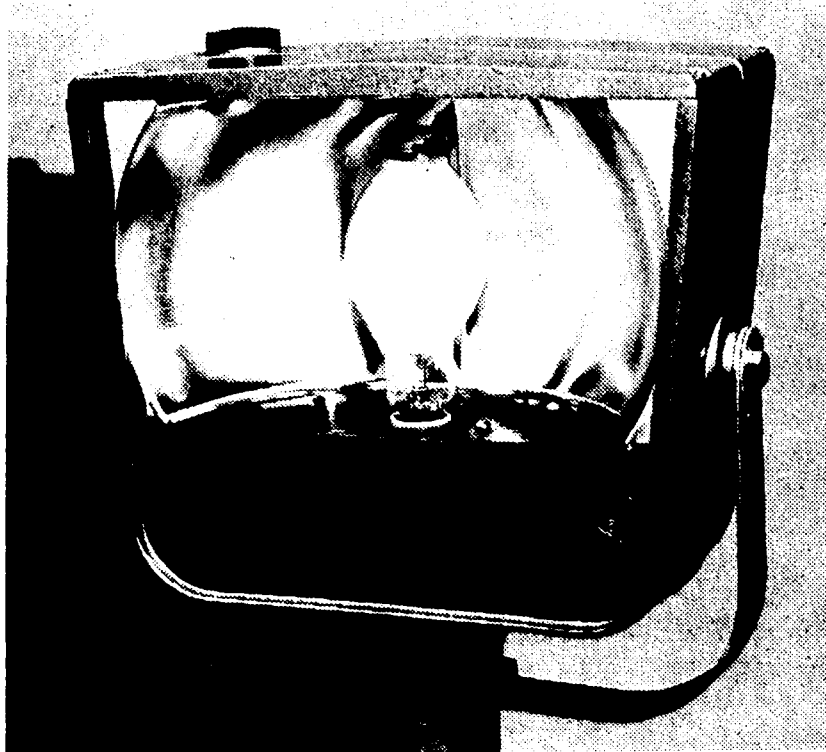

He said the fire "had a suspicious origin, definitely."

Larry R. Meuse, plant superintendent, said he suspected arson. He said "there was nothing in the building that could start by itself."

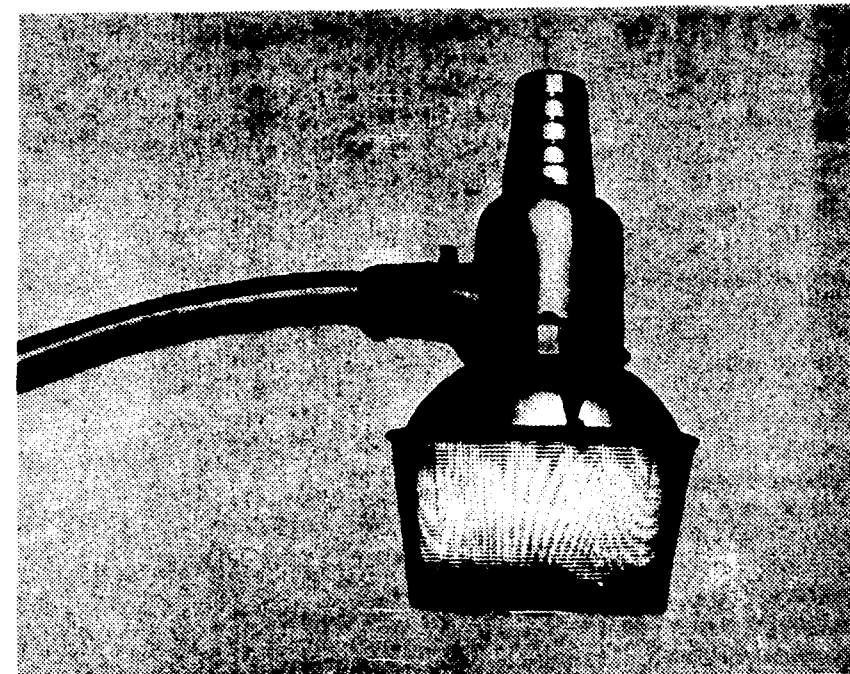

Some, but not all, of the chemicals used by the company were considered very flammable, he added.

Meuse, the firm's only employee when the plant started operations seven years ago, said, "We don't want to leave Wakefield, but it's a possi-

WINNIPEG (AP) — The National Council on Culture of Cuba has invited the Royal Winnipeg Ballet to visit from July 24 to Aug 5. The company will dance in Havana, Matanzas and Cienfuegos.

The family of Mrs. Beulah Yarbrough would like to express their deep appreciation to all our friends who were so generous during our loss. We would like to thank everyone for every expression of sympathy, for the lovely floral offerings, the ministers for their loving words, Dr. Hairston and the hospital staff for their thoughtful care and for the kind contributions of food. May God bless each and everyone.

Report on Special Rural Communications Legislative Meet

By MACK McLARTY
State Representative
Hempstead County
Special Session
Convenes Monday

This morning at 9 a.m., the General Assembly convened for what can be called a "house cleaning" and "adjustment" session.

Several key items (over 40 bills) will be considered. But the big reasons for the session can be attributed to three primary factors:

(1) Re-adjustment of legislation which will allow Arkansas to acquire $26 million in Federal funds, primarily for programs in the State Department of Social and Rehabilitation Services, (2) Re-adjustment of the law which outlines selection of national political convention delegates. The state's primary timetable conflicts with the Democratic Convention and, if not corrected, might result in a legal challenge to Arkansas' delegation, (3) The "house cleaning" of bills which need revision in order to work. Some passed last year simply had technical flaws which must be changed in order to accomplish what they were designed to do.

The original call by Governor Bumpers was for a one-week session, but this would be possible only under optimum conditions—or a session without any hitches. There is no such animal as a meeting of the legislature without hitches. My guess is that the session will last two to three weeks.

The Legislative Council met on Monday and Tuesday and approved most of the items in the Governor's "non-controversial" call. There was, however, considerable debate (or controversy) on one or two of the items.

The Federal Funds
Twenty-six million dollars in Federal funds are available for state-operated community programs for the mentally retarded, mentally ill, juveniles, and for medical services for indigent patients. These funds also assist the aged, blind and disabled.

The proposed bill would allow the State Social and Rehabilitation Services Department to transfer funds (amounting to nearly $½ million) where they are needed in order to secure the large amount for these programs from federal funds.

The significance of this proposal is that the legislature has never given an administration the power to shift and transfer funds without legislative enactment. The state has always adhered to the "line items" method of appropriation—that is, the legislature sets specific disbursement. The legislature, as a whole, prefers to retain this power rather than give any administration broad authority to transfer funds among state departments. Such executive privileges would make legislative-approved budgets relatively meaningless. I can see the need, however, for more flexibility to transfer to obtain federal funds not available when budgets were finalized.

I favor a suggestion by Representative Doc Bryan that the Legislative Council oversee such proposed fund transfers at its monthly meeting.

This gives the Governor, in essence, the needed flexibility for state agencies and, at the same time, allows the legislature to retain its budgetary decision powers.

Mills And The Convention
The power of politics is nowhere more apparent than in the call for a change in the selection of convention delegates.

Last year the Legislature passed a bill which would allow an Arkansas Congressman (namely Wilbur Mills) to run for national office (namely President) and simultaneously run for his current Congressional seat.

Due to a technical error, this provision was found deleted when the legislature ended business last spring. Now, to assure that this proposal is included in effect, a revision is included for call in the special session.

Governor Bumpers has also included in his call a bill which would allow the political parties to choose their own method of selecting convention delegates.

On Tuesday, the Democratic State Committee voted "in favor" of the convention method of selecting delegates rather than the primary election method.

The convention method would literally assure Arkansas' 27 delegates to Congressman Mills at the National Convention this summer.

Texarkana Vo-Tech And Other Items
Of special interest in the special session is one bill which would provide matching funds for a Vo-Tech high school in Texarkana.

There are more than 40 additional items which will be presented for legislative approval during the session. These items will be covered individually in our next report as they are finally dealt with.

A few of the more important items for consideration are:

A proposal to raise from $32 to $60 million the amount of state funds which can be invested in United States Government Securities. Senator Olen Hendrix has also proposed a new revision which would allow the state to invest in Certificates of Deposit in Arkansas Banks.

A proposal to strengthen the state drug control law.

A proposal to expand the Family Practice Program at the University of Arkansas Medical Center.

A plan to use $387,000 of the Governor's emergency fund for improvements at the state prisons.

An appropriation for the Rural Medical Practice Student Loan and Scholarship Program.

Additional funds and personnel for the state medical examiner.

A proposal to create and fund a group health insurance program for state employees.

An appropriation to expand the community tuberculosis control program.

An appropriation which will allow farming to resume at Tucker Prison.

Repeal of provisions that prevent a person from receiving unemployment benefits while his case is being appealed by an employer.

An amendment to the 1971 law clarifying uses for monies appropriated for county and district livestock shows.

All special sessions are designed to be as non-controversial as possible. Controversy means, however, just a difference in the expression of opinions. You can be sure there will be some of that in the special session.

Should any of you desire to ask any questions regarding any pending legislation or need me to assist you in any way, call me in Hope at 777-5744 or Little Rock at 372-7346.

A report on the special session will be published next week.

By MARK CHARNEY
Associated Press Writer
NORWALK, Conn. (AP) — A pilot project in Connecticut will test whether people can be lured to rural areas with telecommunications techniques.

The man behind the federally funded project will be electronics pioneer and former head of Columbia Broadcasting System Laboratories, Dr. Peter Carl Goldmark.

Luring an exploding population into rural areas instead of problem-ridden cities is possible, Dr. Goldmark says, with television cables, satellites and other telecommunications equipment.

The basic idea, says the color television pioneer and inventor of the long-playing record, is to use electronic links like television to bring rural areas the advantages of city life—the latest medical techniques, sophisticated education, business contacts and stored data—without bringing the congestion, crime and pollution.

With $400,000 from the Department of Housing and Urban Development and the National Science Foundation, Dr. Goldmark says the project will begin soon in a 10-town area of northeastern Connecticut. Formal approval of the grant is expected shortly.

Goldmark says the study will concentrate first on work and living patterns as they exist in the area, then on how cable and microwave links could improve the climate for business and population expansion.

Perhaps within a year, Goldmark continued, a new business could be induced to move into an area such as Windham County, which has become economically stagnant in recent years with the loss of industry to large cities.

He talks further of rural data banks serving new rural corporate offices linked by electronics with company headquarters in cities. He also envisions universities that teach from one campus to another through television, and of medicine supplied through "tele-clinics."

Bodies Found at Russellville

RUSSELLVILLE, Ark. (AP) — The bodies of a young couple married for just nine days and a 16-year-old Fort Smith girl visiting the couple were found by a neighbor in their duplex here Sunday afternoon.

Pope County officials identified the three as Johnny Underwood, 19, his wife, Bobbie, 16 and Sherry Whelpley, 16.

The neighbor told police he called the landlord after smelling gas and not hearing anyone in the duplex all weekend.

Russellville police said the three apparently were overcome by gas. However, police said the cause of death would not be known until the result of autopsies were released.

Police said the three could have been dead as long as 24-hour before their bodies were discovered.

The Underwoods had just moved to Russellville Thursday.

Goldmark, born in Budapest 65 years ago, headed CBS Laboratories in neighboring Stamford from its start in 1964 until the end of last year, when he left to form his own company, Goldmark Communications in Norwalk.

Goldmark says his new firm will concentrate on devising new uses for technology already in existence. It's time, he says, for "a new Goldmark's law—innovate, don't invent."

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP) — The search continues today for the missing tanker V.A. Fogg after more debris from the ship was found Sunday about 50 miles south of Freeport, Tex., in the Gulf of Mexico.

The Fogg, with 39 persons aboard, vanished Tuesday on a routine trip from Freeport to Galveston with a 50 mile detour offshore to clean its tanks of highly volatile chemical residues.

Sunday searchers found a life jacket and a life ring, both with the tanker's name imprinted on them.

A door found in the same area Saturday has been positively identified as one from the Fogg, according to a New Orleans Coast Guard spokesman.

The door was apparently forced from its frame, although there is no evidence how that was accomplished, the spokesman said.

Cherry C. Mapes, an engineer who worked on the tanker for 10 years but missed this trip because he was on vacation, at first said the door did not come from the Fogg.

But the Coast Guard Sunday quoted Mapes as saying the door is "in fact the door from the starboard side aft of the boat dock leading to the pumpmen's quarters."

The identification is positive.

Monday, February 7, 1972 the spokesman said, including splotch of paint on the glass part of the door which is still intact.

The tanker, due to dock at Galveston Wednesday, was operated by the Texas City Tankers Corp. It had a crew of 39 and five maintenance men aboard when it pulled out of Freeport.

The search today will continue over a slightly larger area than the 10,000 square miles searched Sunday.
